Website visits- Unique Visitors- about 850, Page View –Week up to 2750 – How is this measured? Weebly replied: “When it comes to your statistics, unique visitors track the iP address that your site was visited from. This means that if I visit your website every day for a week, I am only going to count as 1 unique visitor. However if I look at 10 pages on your website today and 10 pages on your site tomorrow, I will be adding 20 page views to your site but I will still only count as 1 unique visitor. Both of these statistics reflect the previous 7 days from today's date.”
